This international event is an opportunity for those in the reflective products industries to learn about the latest research, advancements, new technology and uses of reflective products as well as exchange information on how reflectives are being used in various regions around the world.

At this time, the conference host, RIMA International, is inviting you to submit any papers or educational session topics you would like to present or learn more about at this conference. Suggested topics for papers include, but are not limited to:

- Recent Studies/Simulations
- New Technologies
- Advancements/Uses
- Research/Reports
- Economic and Government Challenges/Successes
- Regional Uses and Updates
- Building Codes and Related Issues and more . . .

This conference has not been in Europe since 2014 (London), so your input on what topics are of interest to you will help us put together a most educational and informative event. If you have interest in presenting as well, we want to hear from you. The program slots will fill up quickly, so forward your submissions promptly. Send your topic (and outline if presenting) to RIMA International via e-mail at rima@rima.net and watch for more details on the Spring 2023 I-RIM Conference.
